

Konscious Educators presents:

You!

Changing ~~E~~ducation from the Inside-Out (The Return of Passion, Creativity & Self-Empowerment)

When outside influences seem harsh and overwhelming .....

Take your site to a new level!

Albert Einstein once said, “You can never solve a problem on the level on which it was created.” As the world of education struggles to maintain buoyancy in a “perfect storm” of seemingly harsh and sometimes overwhelming circumstances, the opportunity has arisen to create something different – to jump to a new level where we can focus on thriving rather than just surviving!

“Changing Education from the Inside-Out” is designed to shift the everyday experience of educators through the re-kindling of excitement and creativity. All experience is based in perspective and all true change is from the inside-out. Self-Empowerment is about taking charge of our perspectives and responsibility for our experiences. When we enjoy what we are doing and our creative juices are flowing, everything becomes possible and “work” becomes “play.” Communication moves from defensive, combative and divisive to proactive, synergistic and solution-oriented. This workshop is about transforming our everyday experiences – both personal and professional – by shifting our focus from the “outside” to the “inside” where the true power for change, happiness and creativity exists.

Workshop Emphases:

- Enhancing Communication: Individual Styles & Patterns; Relationships & Groups
- Self-Care: Stress Reduction; Renewal; Connection to Self, Excitement and Creativity
- Self-Empowerment: Perspective, Ownership, Responsibility
- Conscious Change from the Inside-Out: Choice, Empowerment, Responsibility, Fun
- Group Empowerment and Transformation: How, What & When

Possible Outcomes:

- Shifts in classroom environment as individual educators connect with their passion and incorporate it into their classroom.
- Shifts in the site environment creating a whole new arena of possibilities, perspectives and opportunities for collaboration and co-creation.
- Indirectly, but definitely a possibility - an increase in the “involvement” of students as they connect with their excitement to learn and create. (We are our environment and as the environment shifts to one which fosters individual excitement and creativity, each individual – adult or child - is affected accordingly.)

Facilitator:

Karrie Wallen is a former teacher and union representative currently following her excitement into the arena of transformational workshop facilitation. She holds a Masters Degree in Education and demonstrates a vast depth of knowledge gained through experiences of working with students, teachers, and administrators. Karrie understands the educational system and the frustration that sometimes undermines the passion and creative desires that motivated teachers and administrators to enter the profession. She believes that communication, re-connecting to passion and creativity, as well as taking responsibility for our individual Self are a few of the keys to loving life – professionally and personally.

Cost: (includes materials, and any transportation costs up to 300 miles roundtrip)
